MOOT HOUSE PLAYERS

their 1982/83 Season of Plays
in Moot Hall, The Stow, Harlow

FOUR COMEDIES AND A CHRONICLE

The Players' simple policy in programme building is to try and do any sort of play which attracts producers so long as it is really good of its kind - we feel that few of our supporters will quarrel with the four comedies which make up the new season; it remains to be seen whether Roger Parsley's new play can 'stand up' to our test... but it fulfills another aspect of the Players' policy - to encourage experiment of all kinds and particularly new writing.

It seems likely that we may have to increase the price of our seats in order to keep up with inflation but we hope to renovate or even replace our old auditorium seating rake to provide even better sight lines for our patrons - this is very expensive and negotiations are in progress for finance. We shall let our audiences know through our FREE MAILING LIST - if you are not yet on this list please let the Secretary know at the address on this pamphlet.

EVERYTHING IN THE GARDEN
by Giles Cooper

Cooper's first great success in the theatre as distinct from radio. It is a very funny comedy based on the idea of a set of respectable suburban housewives earning 'pin money' by operating as high class call girls and what their husbands' reactions are! As with all Cooper's work there is a sting in the tail of the comedy!

Directed by Owen Mooney

ALICE IN WONDERLAND and THE LOOKING GLASS

adapted from Lewis Carroll
by Jean Walls and Jack Mitchley
Perhaps the most famous children's stories of all time, given as a double bill as our show for the 'kiddies' this season... both these adaptations have been seen 'on tour' in schools but never in Moot Hall with the full setting and lighting of which the Players are capable - book early!

Directed by Jack and Yvonne Mitchley

BLITHE SPIRIT
by Noel Coward

Probably the finest farcical comedy of the twentieth century - the story of a man wrestling with the problem of the ghost of his first wife! Coward at his best.

Directed by Charles Hill

May 4, 5, 6, 7

LOCK UP YOUR DAUGHTERS!

A musical adapted from Fielding's "Rape upon Rape!" by Bernard Miles

One of the best post-war musicals which made the Mermaid Theatre's name. The Players have done this one before but it is eminently re-vivable!

Directed by Gordon Hewlett

THE MOUSEHOLD MAN

by Roger Parsley

The Story of Robert Kett & his Rebellion

A huge epic chronicle play dealing with the East Anglian peasants revolt - Mousehold is a great heath on the outskirts of Norwich where the rebels made their main camp. A vast canvas with a cast of thousands - researched and written by a Norwich man. We hope to do it justice.

Directed by Jack Mitchley

MERELY PLAYERS

These popular experimental programmes will continue on February 13 and May 22. We hope to do a programme on Jerome K. Jerome (complete with Edwardian picnic) arranged by Charles Hill one of these dates.
